Simone Development Companies snaps up $13.3M warehouse space in Stamford

Real estate investment company Simone Development Companies has shelled out $13.3 million for an 118,500-square-foot property in Stamford that houses warehouse, research and office space. The site is “believed to be the largest block of contiguous warehouse space available in Stamford,” the Fairfield Daily Voice reports. The property has more than an acre of outdoor storage space, 243 parking spaces and isn’t far from the Glenbrook train station. [\[Fairfield Daily Voice\]](#)
